

In the third installment of Arthur Haberman's Toronto Justice Series, Homicide Detective Danny Miller returns with a new mission: bring justice to those who can't achieve it themselves. This mission may hit closer to home than he realizes.

Set in Toronto, Miller and his team are faced with murder, fraud, and the tangled world of corporate crime. Delve into the multi-faceted world of law and justice through the eyes of Toronto's leading detective and a unique cast of characters that represent the city in all its beauty, inclusion, and, of course, criminal activity.
